

DEMAND DEATH FOR RESISTER LEADERS

U.S. District Attorney Declares Action of Resisters Constitutes Treason

START HEARINGS TODAY

Finishing Stroke is Believed to Have Been Made Against Opposition To Draft

MISLEAD INHABITANTS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 6.—The death penalty has been demanded by federal officials against the leaders of the anti-draft uprisings, which, directed by heads of the so-called working class union, have thrown the counties of Central Oklahoma into turmoil for the last four days. Their action has been declared by United States District Attorney W. P. McGinnis to constitute treason. Hearing will be started tomorrow at McAlester before Federal Commissioner R. W. McMillen.

Unrest Prevailed Two Years. With the entrance of the government agents into case today with warrants against the arrested terrorists, the finishing stroke was believed to have been made against opposition to service in new national forces. According to the government officials unrest has prevailed thruout the affected districts for more than two years. This was utilized by leaders of the agitating factions, the working class union, the Jones family and allied organizations. The disgruntled inhabitants, virtually all of them poor tenant farmer class, readily became tools of unprincipled leaders. A dream of power was declared to have been presented by some of them, colored with promises of riches completely turned the head against law and order.

Tonight the jails in Seminole, Pontotoc, and Hughes counties were almost cleared of their inmates, virtually all being transported to the state penitentiary at McAlester or the county jail there. Federal agents still were at work at Ada, Wewoka, Dustin and Holdenville, filing information against the resisters.

May Call Special Jury. Disposal of cases still was undecided tonight but authorities believed a special session of the federal grand jury would be called to take action on the warrants.

Information secured from prisoners has been to the effect that the selective draft was merely the flare which brought the uprising to a head and not the calculated basis of operations.

According to the officials the attempted revolution was supposed to be called for some time in the future but the posting of names for examination for the new army was too much for the volatile dispositions of the leaders, already worked to a fever heat thru their efforts of organizing the agitation and hostilities were begun.

Posses still were in the field tonight—in Seminole county, in Hughes county and south of Shawnee in Pontotoc county. Isolated bands were giving some troubles, but absence of reports from the searchers during the day apparently bore out the supposition that further clashes had been averted.

Confiscate Dynamite. A car half full of dynamite was confiscated today by deputy sheriffs northeast of Sasakwa in Seminole county. The explosive was confiscated as it was being run in on a siding. It was unaccompanied.

Clashes between the bands of resisters and posses have cost three lives two of the malcontents falling before the citizens forces and one innocent man being killed when he evidently misunderstood an order to halt.

The chase thru the almost impassible wooded foothills was rendered picturesque by the aid given the posses by Seminole and Creek guides. Thruout the entire uprising the loyalty of the Indians never was questioned.

CENTRAL ASSOCIATION ENDS SEASON TODAY

WATERLOO, Ia., Aug. 6.—The Central Association clubs will close the 1917 season after Tuesday's games. This announcement was made today by President Ford at Fort Dodge, after the Fort Dodge directors had decided to withdraw their club from the league.

The Fort Dodge directors announced that it was not because of financial matters that they were withdrawing but because of inability on the part of the team to win games causing a lack of interest by the fans. All players in the league will be paid in full and placed on the reserve list. The withdrawal of Cedar Rapids a week ago is largely responsible for the present condition.

Clear Lake which city took over the Cedar Rapids team and franchise, is anxious to continue, but it would be impossible at this time to get a city to take the place of Port Dodge.

PRESIDENT CONFERS WITH SENATOR LEWIS

Urges Haste in Enactment of Food and Revenue Bills

Senators Chamberlain and Gore Clash Sharply After Debate—Democrats Opposing Approval of Conference Report Occupy Most of Day

Washington, August 6.—Resumption of senate debate today on the conference report of the administration food control bill was marked by bitter verbal exchanges. After a day's discussion administration leaders and some of the chief opponents said it would be disposed of Wednesday. Senator Chamberlain, administration manager, and Senator Gore, who has been prominent in the opposition, clashed sharply during the debate after Senator Reid had made another speech of more than three hours attacking the measure and Herbert C. Hoover. When Senator Gore imputed that the conferees had yielded the senate's judgment to that of the president, Senator Chamberlain declared the Oklahoma senator had consistently obstructed the food bill and also other administration measures.

"I had rather be hanged with following in the footsteps of the distinguished president of the United States in the conduct of this war," said the Oregon senator, "crawling if you please on my knees and heaving the dust from his feet as has been suggested here, than to be treating with the enemies of the president."

Senator Gore denied obstructing the bill, or as Senator Chamberlain had suggested, the army draft law. Recession of the senate conferees on the provision for a congressional committee to supervise war expenditures, stricken out largely because of the president's strong opposition, was denounced by Senator Hardwick and defended by Senators Williams and Wolcott.

Senator Williams declared that, were he the president and such a committee was authorized by congress he would veto the measure and tell them he was responsible to the people who elected him and that he regarded such a lack of confidence. He pointed out that congress already has power to investigate every item of expenditures.

Most of the day's debate was occupied by Democratic senators opposing approval of the conference report. The Republicans were said by their leaders to be almost a unit for immediate and favorable action.

BRING IN CREWS OF SEVEN VESSELS

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 6.—The crews of seven vessels, six of which were sunk by German submarines off the Azores Islands were brought here today by a French steamer which took them on board at a port of call on her voyage from Europe. The vessels sunk were: Italian Bark Doris, 1353 tons; Canadian Schooner Wilhelmina Gertrude;

American four masted Schooner John Twohy, 1019 tons, from Norfolk, Va., for Algiers, Captain J. B. Morehouse;

Norwegian Steamer Ellen, 3,877 tons;

Norwegian Steamer Horland, of 2,472 tons.

The seventh vessel, the British Schooner Conqueror, of 150 tons went down June 11 after she had sprung a leak in rough weather.

The sinking of all these vessels except the Ellen, Doris and Wilhelmina Gertrude had been previously reported.

HINDENBURG SENDS MESSAGE TO MICHAELIS

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—British Admiralty per wireless press—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in a telegram to the imperial German chancellor on the occasion of the fourth anniversary of the commencement of the war says:

"Firmly consolidated in the interior and unshaken on all fronts, Germany braves the exasperating thrusts of her new enemies."

"The German army is fighting far in the enemy's country and is marching with unbroken strength to new successes. It enters the fourth year of the war supported by confidence as firm as a rock that our home spirit and united perseverance will remain alive, which is a guarantee of victory and of an honorable peace to our nation."

ORDER ARREST OF RUSSIAN SOCIALISTS

PETROGRAD, Aug. 6.—The ministry of justice has ordered the arrest of Leon Trotzky and M. Dunacharsky for the part they played in the uprising here last month. The men are international Socialists and leaders in the council of workmen and soldiers delegates. Trotzky lived in the United States at the outbreak of the revolution. With Nikolai Lenin, he led the maximalists into the disorders. Trotzky went to the United States when he was expelled from Europe for preaching peace.

MENARD COUNTY WINS RED CROSS FLAG

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Menard county, with 3,780 of its 12,796 inhabitants belonging to the Red Cross was today announced to be the winner of the red cross flag made by Mrs. Frank O. Lowden for the county having the highest percentage of membership in the organization of any state.

Platt county with a membership of 4600 of a population of 16,376 was second. The total membership for the state as a result of the red cross drive this week was estimated at more than 750,000 by W. D. Thurber, director.

Twenty five counties already have more than furnished the quota necessary to bring the total state membership to 1,000,000. They include: Sangamon, 13,653 quota; 15,434 members; McLean, 10,201 quota; 10,327 members; Morgan, 5,163 quota; 7,664 members.

BITTER EXCHANGES MARK RESUMPTION OF DEBATE

Expect Food Control Bill Will Be Disposed of Tomorrow

Executive is Understood to Have Indicated He Can Be Expected To Let Country Know When He Believes the Time Has Come for Discussing Peace.

Washington, Aug. 6.—President Wilson had a long conference today with Senator Lewis, Democratic whip and urged haste in the final enactment of the food control bill and revenue bill. He is understood to have indicated that he does not consider Germany's recent peace feelers to be genuine and that he can be expected to let the country know when he believes the time has come for discussing peace.

After he left the White House Senator Lewis said:

"The conference was on the general legislative situation. The president is anxious that everything be done possible to hasten the war legislation that congress and officials shall get some rest before the December session begins. Particularly do he desire that the officers of the senate press to early finish the food bill and the revenue bill."

Asked whether he had discussed peace and international relations Senator Lewis said:

"On that subject I don't quote the president but do say for myself that, when the true signs of peace, based on the principles for which America went into this war, shall appear, the president will be the first to treat with them, but when they shall come disguised as peace—only to serve the further cruelties of war—and the betrayal of America, Woodrow Wilson will be the last to be caught."

"The country will hear from the president on peace or war as soon as peace or any new actual conditions call for him to take congress and the people into his confidence. He will allow the American people to lose no rights nor suffer any wrongs his diligence would prevent."

NEW GERMAN CABINET DISAPPOINTS PRESS

Vorwaerts Speaks of Administration as One of Enlightened Bureaucracy

MAKES NO ADVANCE

New Ministry Not Likely to Give Impression of Being of the Parliamentary Order

KUHLMANN FAVORABLE

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 6.—The liberal press of Germany is outspoken in its disappointment over the selections Chancellor Michaelis has made of his colleagues in the new imperial and Prussian ministries. Vorwaerts, the Socialist organ, speaks of the new administration as one of enlightened bureaucracy.

The Tageblatt characterizes the new ministers as in the main successful administrative officials. Dr. Von Kuhlmann alone of the new officials is given favorable treatment by the liberal organs. The conservative and pan-German newspapers are correspondingly aggrieved over his appointment.

Makes No Great Advance. Amsterdam, Aug. 6.—The comment of the Berlin newspapers on the new appointments of imperial and Prussian ministers takes the line that no great advance has been made toward parliamentarism. The Tageblatt regards the changes as unimportant for the development of the empire. The Vossische Zeitung says the new government is not likely to give the impression of being of the parliamentary order. The Volks Zeitung comments that the most favorable thing that can be said is that there has been an infusion of fresh blood into the bureaucracy.

Announce Appointments

Berlin, Aug. 6.—Official announcement was made today that five ministers of state, including Foreign Secretary Zimmermann, and four secretaries of state, including Finance Minister Lantze and Interior Minister Von Loebell, had resigned their portfolios.

WAR INDUSTRIES BOARD HOLDS FIRST CONFERENCE

Washington, Aug. 6.—The war industries board held its first conference with President Wilson today and took up in general the problems which must face in the purchase of war supplies for this government and the allies. NEED LESS THAN 5,000 MEN.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Less than 5,000 men are needed to complete the quota of all the states for the regular army. Recruits accepted Saturday and Sunday numbered 1400. The total since April 1 is 179,350, leaving 4,548 to be enlisted.

BELIEVE COMPROMISE IN CHINA POSSIBLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The opinion was expressed at the state department today that the opposing Chinese factions were not so far separated that a compromise could not be reached.

Acting President Feng Kwo Chang in approving the unanimous decision of the cabinet to declare war on Germany and Austria and indicating that the actual declaration will come sometime next week, has not consulted parliament, as that body was dissolved by his predecessor, Li Yuan Hung.

Members of parliament have gathered in Canton, the seat of the Southern Republican and anti-militarist movement, and are threatening civil war. The whole dispute about China's actual entrance into the war, following America's step has centered about the method. All parties in China are said to be in favor of war and to be disputing only the question of leadership.

BEGIN IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS IN TEXAS

House Investigates Charges Against Gov. Ferguson.

Assistant Cashier Tells How Executive, the Secretary of State and the Banking Commissioner Deposited Large Sums of State Money in the Temple State Bank

Austin, Texas, Aug. 6.—Deposits of state funds in the Temple State Bank, of which Governor James E. Ferguson, formerly was president, and in which he is a large stockholder today occupied the attention of the house of representatives, sitting as a committee of the whole to investigate charges looking into the impeachment of the chief executive. Henry Blum, assistant cashier, told how the governor, the secretary of state and the banking commissioner deposited large sums of state funds being on deposit there.

M. M. Crane Questions Blum. M. M. Crane of Dallas, counsel for the house committee sitting as a whole, questioned Blum.

The governor is charged by indictment with embezzling $5,600 on August 23, 1916.

When Blum had been turned over to W. A. Hanger, counsel for Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Hanger asked him if the Governor in addition to the Governor's account, did not also have a special account and a private account. Blum replied affirmatively.

"I'll ask you," said Mr. Hanger, "not say what amount the governor had on deposit in his special account on August 23, 1916."

"Forty dollars and thirty two cents," replied Blum.

Mr. Crane then asked what amount Mr. Ferguson had in his private account on August 23, 1916.

Governor Overdraws Account. It developed that he was overdrawn to the extent of $30,642.32 that date.

Asked if anyone drew interest on this state money, which once ran into deposits totalling more than $350,000 the witness said: "Not that I know of."

"Did the Temple State Bank ever carry any state accounts before Mr. Ferguson became governor?" the witness was asked.

"No," he said.

"Was the governor charged any interest on his $30,000 overdraft," was one interjection from Mr. Crane during the cross-examination.

"He was—ten per cent," the witness rejoined.

CANADIANS MAKE SUCCESSFUL ADVANCE

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS in France, Aug. 6.—By the Canadian Press, Ltd.—Canadian troops made another successful advance last night which carried their outposts to the main line of the enemy's defense on the railway embankment to the west of Lens.

The men of two Canadian battalions in a dashing attack, captured a crater occupying a cross-road east of Cite di Moulin, and a crater to the north of the Lens-Lieven road. For several days the enemy had maintained strong posts in these craters from which harassing rifle and grenade fire was directed at our outposts' line at night.

The attack, for the most part was carried out with bombs. An attacking party also bombed two tunnels known to be occupied by the enemy inflicting, it is believed a considerable number of casualties.

STORM WROUGHT HAVOC NEAR TUSCULA

A. M. Masters, who returned to Jacksonville Saturday night with his family after a visit in Indianapolis, drove a distance of 287 miles in one day. It was a hard run as the roads were not in good condition all the way. In the vicinity of Tuscola Mr. Masters saw a scene of crop devastation which would make any landowner sad. Three or four miles from the city he drove thru an area of at least three or four thousand acres where the corn had been almost completely stripped of leaves by a heavy hailstorm which occurred Friday night.

The land about Tuscola is of fine quality and the crop prospects were excellent. In this particular locality the hail, which was accompanied by a veritable cloudburst of water, wrought devastation and the corn crop is ruined. Fields of wheat and oats where the grain was in the shock were also greatly damaged and in a number of fields water had fallen in such volume that the shocks in the fields had been swept along and piled up against the fences.

On the way to Indianapolis Mr. Masters drove thru mud and rain for nearly 160 miles. The fact that he was traveling on hard roads part of the time made it possible for him to push along without making any long stops.

RETURNS FROM MICHIGAN

Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, president of Illinois College, returned Monday evening from Old Mission, Mich. where for the past three weeks he has been a guest of Prof. and Mrs. J. G. Ames. A NEW ROLE FOR OUR FARMERS

It is said that General Pershing on a visit of inspection to American camps sought information about possible garbage waste. He was told that there was no waste of this kind as the French farmers were on hand every day early to haul away this refuse. That's a lesson that America must learn from both France and Germany. Can you picture a group of American farmers as we know them hereabouts arriving early at an army camp to empty the garbage cans? Here we class our farmers as our prominent business men and name them on our bank directorates.

MAKING A LIVING

Confronted as nearly all people are these days by the worries of H. C. L., the following from the Christian Science Monitor will strike a responsive chord with the average householder:

"It is not surprising, in these times when the chief topic of discussion in so many homes in all parts of the world is the high cost of everything which the home maker and bread winner has to provide, that the children should become impressed with its importance. That they do become impressed would appear to be testified by a little girl in a Sunday school class in the West who, in answer to the question, 'What is the most wonderful thing a man ever made?' answered, 'A living for a family.' She perhaps could furnish corroborative proof right in her own home.

ADVANCE INFORMATION

Various senators who have been blocking the food survey and control bills are being belabored by the press. It is stated that this survey should have begun long since. This statement is entirely true but since President Wilson has thus far shown his ability to put thru congress every measure which he earnestly supports, it is reasonable to assume that this measure will also pass in due time. It is not assuming to say that the president expects this action and he must be credited with forthrightness for it is known that government agents have been visiting various parts of the country inventorying foodstuffs. men engaged in this work were recently in Jacksonville and it is understood that the survey work has touched all parts of the country. Just as Mr. Hoover is to be food administrator after the law is passed which gives the president power to appoint him, so seemingly the survey facts are being gathered together that they may be incorporated into a report when the authority for the survey is granted. This is the kind of forehandedness that is both needed and justified.

RUSSIAN DEMOCRACY

Those who are disappointed because disturbances in Russia are embarrassing the allies to some extent and are according comfort to Germany should not be greatly disturbed when they consider history and the Russian conditions of recent years. A democratic government is not built in a day. The upheaval which resulted in the government as now constituted was not the outgrowth of a day and represented the feelings and aspiration of a certain class of citizens. But evidently the thought is a little too far in advance for the majority of the people, but they are learning about government and they will learn rapidly, so the growth of the self-government idea can be expected to be rapid. There will be uprisings and upheavals, there will be cabinet changes, but in the end democracy will win and Russia will be able to do her part. Commenting upon the trouble with Russia an exchange has the following:

Suspicion is rife. Corruption was so general under the old regime that when it is charged against any new leader it finds ready credence. The ignorance of the mass of Russians almost passes comprehension. The persecution of the Jews because of the absurd "blood ritual" charge illustrates this. There is also another ignorance, separate from illiteracy, manifesting itself in a slavish devotion to visionary theories which ignore actual conditions and common facts of human nature. The so-called intellectuals are more gullible, in some respects, than the unlettered peasants. There seems to be little conception of a real democracy, embracing all the population. An exaggerated and short-sighted class consciousness prevails instead. The problem would be less complicated if there were no reactionaries and if shrewd German agents were not playing on the weaknesses and follies of the people. It is probable that the military danger from Germany, under all the circumstances, is the greatest influence working to the spirit of accommodation essential to national unity in Russia.

MEETING THE PHYSICAL TESTS

It is a cause for gratification that all of the men summoned to appear for examination yesterday came to Army hall or were absent for valid reasons. Seventy five out of eighty presented themselves in accordance with the notification and it is known that the other five have already enlisted in some branch of the service or have passed under the authority of other exemption boards. The few citizens who were present at the hall yesterday as spectators could not but be impressed with the seriousness of the whole proceeding, but even more so with the orderliness and good spirit which prevailed. True there are many in the list of seventy five who are claiming exemptions but they are doing so in conformity with the law as they understand it and there was nothing in their attitude of the resentful or fault-finding kind. These men were all of seemingly cheerful spirit too. They were not hilarious. There was no joking and little laughter. But neither were the young men long-faced. They impressed the spectator as with being thoroughly imbued with the need which has called for army service and with the understanding that the examination in progress was being carried out entirely in conformity with legal requirements. The first day's list of registered men certainly made an excellent showing and they represented a fine average type of young manhood in this community. And the record of examination will certainly compare favorably with that made elsewhere.

The members of the exemption board in their arrangements had overlooked nothing which could in any way add to the perfectness of the detail and system of the examination. There was promptness and there was thoroughness and every man present realized that the exemption board members were there to use their best efforts in giving every registered man a fair deal and at the same time protecting the rights and authority of the government. Members of the exemption board are, as has been pointed out, direct representatives of the government and have military authority under the law.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

MARCHING HOME.

When they come back from blood-stained fields, the country's hero fighters, displaying on their belts and shields the scalps of Prussian blighters, when they come back across the foam from active German hunting, how proudly they'll be welcomed home! We'll deck the land with bunting! The bands will play to beat the band, brave airs in hand—some doses, and pretty girls, on every hand, will pelt the boys with roses. And there'll be music in the kirk, loud organ peals and singing, and every man will quit his work, and keep the welkin ringing. I'd hate to be the slacker lad who skulked and dodged the fighting, when from France or Petrograd the boys come home a-kinging! I'd hate to be that young man then, disgraced beyond redemption, who claimed a spavin or a wen, as reason for exemption. Oh, better far to fill a grave in some red field uncharted, than slink around when banners wave to greet the lion-hearted. When we, to see the heroes back, before the courthouse rally, the bloodless fellows who were slack will hide in some dark alley.

Anniversary of Rev. H. Sieving of St. Paul Lutheran Church is observed.

Sunday marked the 25th anniversary of the Rev. Herman Sieving's admission to the ministry and it was celebrated in a fitting manner, tho the event came as a surprise to the minister. Mr. Sieving is pastor of the St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church near Chapin.

On Sunday the Rev. Mr. Sieving delivered the usual morning sermon and at noon was invited to the home of Mrs. Brookhouse for dinner. It had been arranged to hold a service at the church in the afternoon and the Rev. J. G. Kuppler of this city had been invited to conduct the English service.

The services were opened by the singing of a hymn in English by the congregation. The Rev. Mr. Kuppler then delivered the address in English. This was followed by a song in English by the choir and an address in German by the Rev. E. Tonn of Arenzville. A song in German was then given by the choir.

The address of congratulation on the completion of a quarter of a century of service was then delivered by the Rev. H. Schwagmayer, formerly pastor of the church at Neeleyville. Mr. Schwagmayer at the close of his remarks presented Rev. Mr. Sieving on behalf of the congregation a purse of twenty-five silver dollars. The service closed with the singing of a German song.

A reception was held on the lawn following the service and ice cream and cake were served. The success of the event was due largely to the efforts of Miss Katie Brookhouse and the vestry of the church who had the celebration in charge. There was a large number of friends of the pastor present which served to show the esteem in which he is held by his congregation and the people of that community.

THREE INSTRUCTORS IN SCHOOLS RESIGN

Resignations Accepted by Board of Education Monday Night — New School Law Limits Profits On School Books — Cannot Change Texts Oftener Than Once in Five Years.

The board of education met in regular session last evening and transacted routine business. The bills were held up for examination by the finance committee. Letters were ordered sent to the city banks asking bids for supplying funds. Progress in repair work was announced. Disused telephone material was ordered sold. Resignations of Fred R. Barrows, commercial department, high school; Miss Ida Mills, teacher in Lafayette school and Miss Edith Johnson, substitute, were received and accepted. The new school book law was read and the board decided not to handle books but leave them to dealers.

The board met in regular session with all present except Members Metcalf and Hopper. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved. Member Rogerson read bills amounting to $507.74 and payroll of $170, and moved they be paid.

Some discussion was precipitated here as it was mentioned that at a previous meeting it had been decided that all bills must be presented at least 24 hours before the regular meeting at which they are to be acted on so that the finance committee may have an opportunity to investigate them and this rule had not been adhered to. It was suggested that the bills had been approved by the superintendent as far as he had knowledge of them and by others in other cases. It was finally decided to refer the bills to the finance committee.

The finance committee was instructed to address letters to each city bank asking for bids for furnishing the board money.

The building and grounds committee reported walk laid at Jefferson school; the work on the heating and ventilating apparatus in the high school building proceeding; work on moving the high school building fire escape progressing; the letting of the cornice painting to Williams; a broken lock at the coal shed at the Franklin school building, said lock having been broken by Harrigans' teamsters. The offenders were expected to pay damages. Harrigan Bros. had asked for a man to shovel back the coal as it was delivered but the request was declined.

Telephone connections to various school rooms had been established by a previous board at an expense of $935.70 and were not being used and it was suggested that the fixtures should be sold as they were likely to deteriorate or be injured. It was explained that the greater part of the expense was the wiring which could not be sold but it was finally decided to sell the articles and the building and grounds committee was so instructed.

Resignations of Miss Edith Johnson, substitute, owing to ill health; Miss Ida Mills, teacher in Lafayette school, ill health, and Fred R. Barrows, commercial department, high school owing to an offer of a place in Racine, Wis., at a salary of $1400, were read and accepted with regrets.

The secretary was instructed to send a letter of sympathy to Miss Agnes Lusk, principal of the Franklin school, Miss Lusk having recently lost a sister.

S. W. Nichols asked indorsement and permission of the board for the annual burgoe he desired to tender the children of the city and on motion of Member Muehlhausen the request was granted with the approval and appreciation of the board.

Supt. Perrin then read the following extracts from a recent law passed by the last legislature and asked instructions or what the board deemed wise:

School Law Points

1. 6. Boards of education or boards of school directors are empowered, and it shall be their duty to adopt such textbooks listed under the provision of this act, needful for use in said schools, and, thereupon, shall make a record thereof in its proceedings and within thirty days thereafter shall file a copy of such record in the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and text books once adopted by any board under this provision of this act shall not be changed within five years and said books shall be used exclusively in all public high schools and elementary schools of the state for which they have been adopted, except that supplementary or abridged or special editions of such books may be used when necessary.

7. It shall be unlawful for any retail dealer in textbooks to sell any books listed with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction as hereinafter provided at a price to exceed fifteen per cent advance on the net prices as so listed. Any dealer violating the provisions, shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars and not more than one hundred dollars.

8. School districts are hereby authorized to purchase textbooks from the publishers at the prices listed with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction as hereinafter provided and to designate a retail dealer or dealers to act as the agent of the district in selling textbooks to pupils. The said dealer or dealers shall at stated times make settlement with the district for such books as have been sold up to the stated time. Said dealer or dealers shall not sell textbooks at prices which shall exceed a ten per cent advance on the net prices as listed with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Any dealer violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars and not more than one hundred dollars: 10. The word "person" as used in this act shall include firms, associations and corporations.

11. When a family removes from one school district to another within the state, the clerk of the district may purchase, out of the contingent fund, the textbooks in actual use by the children of the family at a fair price, based on the condition of the book; the said books to be resold, when necessary, to other pupils moving into said district.

H. P. Obermeyer was present and said a dealer simply would lose money handling books at 15 per cent profit as one or two left over would be dead stock and cancel all profits. If a dealer could know that he would sell every book for cash it would be different. After considerable discussion it was decided not to undertake the handling of the books but leave the matter to retail dealers.

Adjourned.

A VISITOR FROM ALASKA.

Miss Clara Derrick of Ketchikan, Alaska, is in the county visiting her friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Filson of Concord and accompanied them to the city yesterday. Miss Derrick says great progress is being made in her far away home and many indications of progress and improvement are evident on every hand. The railroad to Dawson is completed to quite a distance and much also is expected of the government road which is to be constructed. Great gold finds are no more, much steady mining is being done profitably while the agricultural resources of the land are being developed. Many minerals beside gold are to be found there in addition to vast quantities of valuable timber so that in the future great enterprises are sure to be conducted there.

Social Events

Mr. and Mrs. James Crouse
Celebrate Ruby Anniversary.

A company of old friends and neighbors went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Crouse, of Jacksonville, Sunday, August 5, to help celebrate their fortieth wedding anniversary. The surprise was planned and successfully carried out by their son Ernest and wife of Ashland, Ill. Each one came with well filled baskets, and at noon dinner was served on the lawn, each one doing full justice to the good things before them.

Mr. Crouse came to Cass county, Illinois, from Winston-Salem, N. C., many years ago and was united in marriage to Miss Hattie Miller of Cass county, Illinois, in 1877. The first three years of married life was spent in Winston-Salem, N. C., where their eldest son, Theodore was born. They moved to Illinois in 1880, settling near Philadelphia, Ill., the former home of Mrs. Crouse, where they lived among the best of friends and neighbors for thirty three years, and where their other two sons, Ernest and Roy were born. Four years ago they moved to a farm near Jacksonville, Ill., where they have since resided. They have one granddaughter and four grandsons. Those to attend the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Crouse and daughter Helen and son Kenneth of Arnold; Mrs. M. S. Ferguson and daughter Hattie of Jerseyville; Mr. Abe Miller of Petersburg; Roy Crouse of Concord; Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey and daughter Lorena of Virginia; Mr. Jesse McNeely of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Way, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey and son Harry and daughter Irene, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey and daughters Eula and Glenna, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Wright, Mrs. Susan Cosnor and sons, Alfred, Roland and Russel, Mr. Tom Cosnor, Mr. Will Burns, Mr. Frank Devlin, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crouse and sons Eugene, Ruel and Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wyatt and daughter Jessie Eulene, all of Ashland; Miss Georgia Loudon of Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cully and Mr. and Mrs. Jed Cox and daughter Frances of Jacksonville. The day was spent in talking over old times. The time of parting came all too soon, each one going to their respective homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Crouse many more enjoyable anniversaries. They were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents.

MAN HAS LOST MEMORY. The police picked up a man Sunday who had been lying in the roadway near the residence of William Thies since Saturday about noon. He was brought to the police station but so far has been unable to tell his name or where he came from. Chief Davis said that the matter was reported to the police about noon Sunday and he sent officers with the police car and had the man brought to the station. People in the vicinity of Mr. Thies' home said the man had been lying by the side of the road since about noon Saturday.

Chief Davis is of the opinion that it is a case of sun stroke and that it has caused a lapse of memory. Dr. A. M. King, city health physician, was called and examined the man. He found his pulse regular and he apparently was all right physically but decidedly off mentally. It was with difficulty that he was induced to drink water and so far he has refused to eat. He is a man apparently about 30 years of age, and probably 5 feet, 9 inches tall and will weigh about 130 pounds. He has curly black hair and black eyes and has the appearance of a farm hand. He will be kept under observation for a few days in the hope that his memory will return.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ludwig of Divernon motored to Alexander Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Barbara Ludwig.

HAD AN EYE REMOVED.

The venerable Mrs. Elizabeth Litter of the north part of the county came to the city yesterday to consult Mrs. Bowe and Adams regarding her eyes which were giving her much trouble. After careful examination it was deemed best to remove the left eye and it was done successfully. Mrs. Litter is 82 years old and not very rugged but bore the operation all right and bids fair to recover in a reasonable time.

NEW RAMBLER MANAGER.

James Barnes has been appointed business manager of the Illinois College Rambler for the coming year. He succeeds Elmer Lukeman who is now in the marine corps and will not return to school next term.

THIS LAND NOT FOR SALE
There have been various reports lately of advancing prices on land. The report was current that a resident of the Mound road had refused an offer of $300 an acre for his farm. Asked about this matter yesterday this land owner said that it was not true that he had been offered this price but that he had been asked by real estate men sometime ago to place such a figure on this farm. "But," said the landowner, "I declined to fix this price because I do not want to sell my farm. It is free from incumbrance, is well located and I do not know of any land of better quality. I do not know how many years I will be here and

I have a feeling that I would rather leave this land as part of my estate than to leave the equivalent in money at $300 an acre. All years are not good in crop returns but with a farm a man can at least always make a living. So you see it isn't a question of price with me. I do not want to sell my Morgan county land at any price.

Rev. Wm. Dyer of the northwest part of the county was brought to the Home Sanitarium yesterday for consultation. He has a complication of troubles, and as he is 82 years old it may not seem wise to operate on him. He has been a sufferer for some time.

Vigilantes War Notes

Among the British officers who have been over here on duties connected with the war is Captain H. Lefroy, now First Assistant Superintendent Royal Arsenal, Woolwich, where he is in charge of the shell filling program. The following letter from his pen in the London Times of April 24th seemed to indicate that the Captain thought enough of his experiences in the "U. S. A." to feel impelled to talk about them to his countrymen:

"Sir: The following accounts of friendly American feeling towards Great Britain during the present war may interest our countrymen. I was sent out to U. S. A. some time ago on special duty. My work last September sent me to Tacoma, Washington State. While there I got a telegram from my commanding officer to come back to New York as I had to sail for England on the following Wednesday evening. When I got the wire I found that if I left Tacoma 6 o'clock train that Saturday evening I would just make the connection if all went well. I started and arrived in Chicago on Tuesday evening following and caught my connection. The conductor of the train, New York Central, knew I had to be in New York the following evening. He came to my berth next morning early and said: 'Our engine broke down last night and we are four hours late. We will miss connection at Cleveland, but have wired to try and keep the train!' When we arrived train was gone. I went to superintendent of the line, told him the position, that I was a British officer on duty, said, 'What should I do?' He said stay where you are, I will give you a special train to Buffalo, 187 miles, and catch the Empire express leaving there 12 noon. It was then 8:45 a. m. At 9 a. m. a special took me out of station, and we arrived within one mile of Buffalo at 11:30 a. m., 186 miles in two hours and 30 minutes: we were then held up by traffic, but arrived at station at 11:45 a. m., and caught the express, which landed me in New York at 10:10 p. m. as promised. The company never charged me one cent, but said they were glad to help. Would any British railway company do this? My experience of America is, the heads of the big manufacturing firms have a high idea to make the best they can. They make mistakes, we all do. I say from the bottom of my heart, Thank God they are on our side, and will help to finish this job, so that the world will never see this hell on earth again. Yours, &c., A British Officer."

Apparently Capt. Lefroy's appreciation of America and American good will have not diminished since this letter was printed. In a personal letter to a New York friend, which the latter forwarded to The Vigilantes, he wrote recently:

"I love U. S. A. with all my heart and I am so glad she is on the side of future wars without reason. Thank God she is on our side. I wonder will I ever see New York again. The U. S. A. is a wonderful country and I am not at all certain whether this war will not make her a greater country."

Captain Lefroy is like a good many other Englishmen who have been over here and who have gone back with a heart full of love for this country. There never was a time when the two great English speaking peoples were as close to each other as they are now. What a crime it would be if the pro-Germans who are seeking with their might and main to divide them, should be assisted by the pacifists and the misinformed Americans to undo the good work that opportunity has made possible.

There has never been a time in the history of our country when it was so easy to make of America a united nation. The war has provided the flame to set the melting pot bubbling. With the new America that must develop out of this crisis and the New England, which is also bound to emerge from the great conflict, standing together for democracy and all its ideals, pan-Germanism, with all its deviltry, cruelty and cynical disregard of the rights of others will be forever doomed. Can't this outstanding fact be pounded into the heads of the obstructionists who yell against England?

Writing from Paris to The Vigilantes, Gertrude Lynch says:

"That the subject of aviation is no longer entirely in the air in America, so to speak, is proved by the fact that scarcely a newspaper in Paris can be read without the eye being caught by an allusion to the enormous sums of money to be diverted by the United States for the building of aircraft and outside the newspaper kiosks, leaflet posters announce continually 'Aviation sans les Etats Unis'. We learn that enormous sums are to be provided; that at least a thousand hydro-aeroplanes a month are to be built, that an army of aerial fighters are to land with speed, a thousand a fortnight, etc., etc."

"Just how much of this promise is to be realized, how much American energy in the way of men, money and material is actually at this moment to be diverted air-ward, we do not know. It is a problem, however, which in detail is as important as it is uncertain. The salient thing is the admission that to win the war on the Western front we must send air artillery, we must send it in abundance and we must send it at once. The figures quoted may seem a little swollen, it is probable that they will not only be reached but surpassed as the war continues—war figures have been before."

"The steady advance on the English and French fronts in tactical ways has impressed the truth that the new order has changed and a newer is in vogue. It is not too great a flight of the imagination to credit the possibility that the final battle will be an air battle. Straws show which way the wind blows."

"If America does not actually hold the air supremacy before long, she will be an important factor in our military authorities agree with those of Europe that the air fighting is only in the preliminary stage compared with that which is to be."—From The Vigilantes.

There are many interesting subjects to discuss these days, and there are many edifying examples of patriotism to observe. One of the most interesting subjects to ponder upon and one of the most patriotic spectacles to observe is the affectionate regard in which the "New York Staats-Zeitung" and the "New York Herald" hold the "New York Evening Post." They quote from it with unctious daily. They quote not a few sentences but whole editorials, even columns.

There are only one or two other papers printed in the English language which the German language newspapers so dearly love and do much enjoy quoting. One of these is the "New York Evening Mail" is the "New York American and Journal," a third is the "Irish World." Verily Oswald Garrison Villard is in the company he loves the best. And when a law is finally passed making it compulsory for the German language newspapers to print translations of their seditious matter in parallel columns, then surely the "New York Evening Post" should at the same time be allowed to publish its own subtly pernicious matter in parallel columns of German translation just to even things up, and make Mr. Villard feel natural at last.—From The Vigilantes.

American patriots who are planning to compete for the prize of One Thousand Dollars offered by the City of Baltimore for the briefest, clearest and most ringing statement of what it means to be an American, should remember that all manuscripts must be in the office of Educational Foundations, 31 East 27th Street, New York City, by September 14th. Contestants desiring information concerning the contest may secure it by applying to that address by letter, enclosing return postage.

Here is a chance for somebody to win One Thousand dollars. Here also is a chance for somebody to win immortality. They don't often go together.—From The Vigilantes.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

The Russian retirement in Bukovina is slackening somewhat, while the Anglo-French and German armies in Flanders, with more favorable weather are feeling out each other's strength. On no front was there fighting on a large scale Monday.

Further attacks by the Germans against the British lines at Holbeck, between Ypres and Warneton were repulsed. Crown Prince Rupprecht also met with failure in an assault against the British at Westhoek, directly west of Ypres.

The rain having ceased, British airmen took to the air Monday and Field Marshal Haig's latest report says they carried out successful bombing raids and other work. The latter activity probably was the photographing of the new German positions preparatory to another effort by the British. Five airplanes of the Teston fleet were sent down Lens, the coal center north of Arras, is slowly falling into the British net. After their success of Sunday the Canadians again moved forward Monday.

Severe losses were inflicted on the Germans when they attempted a raid north of Arleux southwest of Lens and west of Vimy. From St. Quentin to Verdun on the French front artillery duels have been in progress. Apparently the Russians are holding intact their line north of the Dniester and are preparing to give battle between the Dniester and the Pruth. Berlin claims no successes north of the Pruth but the Russians, fighting vigorously, are retreating from the Pruth southward to the Roumanian frontier.

The changes in the German Imperial cabinet and the Prussian ministry are not looked upon kindly by the liberal press of Germany. Berlin newspapers agree that the old bureaucracy still is in power and that no step in the direction of responsibility to parliament has been taken. Dr. Von Kuehlmann the new foreign secretary is reported to be an opponent of the ruthless submarine warfare.

DR. E. W. FELL CALLED TO ARMY SERVICE

Former Jacksonville Man Has Been Appointed to Captaincy in Medical Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fell have received a letter from their son, Dr. E. W. Fell, telling of his appointment as captain in the medical section of the officers' reserve corps of the U. S. army. Dr. Fell's commission was received a few days since and he expects soon to be ordered on active duty in a psychiatric unit, probably that of Dr. F. P. Norbury, who has tendered his services to the government.

Dr. Fell was born in Jacksonville Jan. 16, 1878 and after attending the public schools here graduated subsequently he went to Northwestern university medical school, where he received his diploma in 1903 and his appointment as interne at Alexian Bros. hospital. After a service there of a year and a half he became superintendent at the Watertown hospital, where he served seven years. Dr. Fell was for a period first assistant physician at the Boston psychopathic hospital, then assistant physician at Wilgus sanitarium at Rockford and for the past two years he has been physician and pathologist at the Elgin state hospital.

It can readily be seen from this record that Dr. Fell has specialized in the treatment of mental and nervous diseases and those who know about his career are aware that he has been especially successful. He was married in this city to Miss Olive Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brady, and they have two sons and a daughter. Mrs. Fell has not yet decided where she and the children will reside during Mr. Fell's term of service in the army.

PHYSICAL TESTS FOR DRAFTED MEN WERE BEGUN MONDAY

Nearly Two-thirds of Men Examined Found Qualified for Service—Many File Exemption Claims—Examining System Works Smoothly.

PHYSICAL TEST SUMMARY
Men Examined 75
Physically Disqualified 25
Order for Future Tests 4
Claiming Exemption 41
Summoned for Today 81

The physical examination of men registered under the conscription act began Monday morning at 9 o'clock in accordance with the arrangements made by the Morgan county exemption board. Seventy-five men were examined and of this number twenty-five were discharged because of physical defects. Six men who were summoned did not appear. Several of these men have already enlisted for service and it is understood that the others have passed under the jurisdiction of exemption boards elsewhere.

Forty-six out of fifty men were passed as physically qualified for army service and four were asked to return on specified dates for further examination. Out of the fifty men only nine are understood to have made no claim for exemption. The board will later pass upon the exemption claims of those who are clearly free from a claim for service under the law. Other questions as to exemption must go to the district board at Springfield.

Good Showing Made.

The percentage of men rejected out of the eighty summoned for examination was 31 plus. This is considered a good showing for this county by comparison with examination records in a number of other localities. In Galesburg the percentage of physical exemptions was 39.8. The plan for examining as worked out by Dr. C. E. Black presented a very systematic and thorough way of handling the work without delay. It was therebetween the hours of 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. after allowing 45 minutes at the noon hour for lunch. Eighty-one men have been summoned for examination today and it is probable that the work can be pushed along even more rapidly than was true Monday.

The registered men, many of them accompanied by relatives, began to arrive at Armory hall at 8:30 o'clock. In accordance with the rules laid down by the exemption board, no one was admitted to the hall except the registered men, the physicians and a committee of citizens. The men were examined in the order in which they arrived at the hall, without reference to their card number. At the door of the southwest room adjoining the armory the registered men were received by J. G. Reynolds. Each man was taken to the desk of Miss Lucy Mount, assistant to Dr. Black, and there signed a statement as to some personal history. The registered men were then given numbers indicating the order of their arrival and they were permitted to go to the gallery of the Armory.

Examining Work Systemized.

As soon as the physicians were ready to begin the examining work a few of the first numbers were called and these men were admitted by Deputy Sheriff Howard Wannamaker. When the examination of these first men was nearly completed, others were called to be in readiness so that there were no delays. Dr. Black was assisted by Dr. C. E. Cole, Dr. G. H. Stacey, Dr. D. W. Reid, Dr. R. R. Buckthorpe, Dr. G. R. Bradley, Dr. Walter L. Frank, Fred R. Barrows, Ellsworth Black, John W. Larson, Robert Reid, James G. Capps and L. F. Girard. The men were stripped and then the necessary measurements were taken and they submitted to a variety of tests to indicate their physical condition. Each man had with him his signed card and physicians noted thereon the result of their findings in case of any defect. Dr. Black then made a personal examination and all exempted men were then turned over to Dr. E. L. Crouch for re-examination. After each man's card had been signed by Dr. Black as medical examiner it was then taken to Miller Weir as president of the exemption board for his signature. W. N. Hairgrove, secretary of the board, issued the various exemption blanks desired by the men and the duplicate records of the blanks issued were kept by Miss Annie T. Loar.

Citizens' Committee Watched Proceedings.

As already indicated, the system has been worked out very carefully so that the work could move along with surprising speed. Near the desk of Mr. Weir, president of the exemption board, was seated the citizens' committee, which included Rev. M. L. Pontius, Sheriff Graff, W. L. Fay, W. D. Doying, John J. Reeve and H. A. Perrin. The physicians who conducted the examination and the citizens' committee had occasion to comment upon the spirit the men displayed. There was apparent a willingness to fully meet the government's requirements and it was quite evident that a number of men discharged because they were not physically fit were disappointed and others not up to standard measurements but accounted qualified for service were gratified.

The first man called for re-examination was George A. Moody of South Main street, who was found to be exempt because of defective vision. The list of men examined, together with the board's findings, appears below. Names of men who are understood not to have claimed exemption are indicated by stars.

SOLDIERS TELL ABOUT LIFE IN U. S. SERVICE

Letters from Several Illinois College Students Received by Dr. F. S. Hayden—Soozy, Apple and Brown Write From Training Camps.

Dr. F. S. Hayden receives frequently letters from Illinois college students who are now serving their country in army and navy. Dr. Hayden, who as dean of the college faculty is on terms of intimacy with nearly all of the student body, has made it a particular point to keep the college students advised about college and Jacksonville affairs. The following letters were recently received. One of them is from Earl Soozy with Co. 1, second engineers, Camp Baker, near El Paso, Tex. Another is from Clay Apple, who is a private in Co. 89 at the marine barracks located at Paris Island, S. Carolina, and the third is from Raymond Brown who is with troop 1, 17th Cavalry, at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. These letters give different views of the service into which many Morgan county boys have already gone and into which others are soon to go. The letters therefore are of general interest.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 1, '17.
My Dear Dr. Hayden:

Your letter of two weeks ago received but I have been too busy to answer until now. If one does have any idle time he is not in a place to use it. We are being worked hard in preparation for the real thing, which is no great distance ahead. We have already finished the annual rifle range and now the time is devoted to practical engineering drill with exception of the mounted section.

The mounted men are somewhat behind because they did not receive their horses until three weeks ago, and only began drilling last week. Each company is divided into several different sections for engineering drill. There are the pontoon, bridge, field fortification, surveying, demolition, railroad and the mounted sections. I am in the mounted which has a number of duties of which sketching, scouting and demolition are examples. You can readily see that the engineers do almost every kind of military work that is to be done.

Prepare Way for Advancing Army

Altho the engineers as a unit may never see the front line, however, in detachments, a fellow is going to be lucky if he isn't in the fight up to his neck a good deal of the time. Most of the "sapping" of the present war is done by the engineers or supervised by them. Engineers are scattered from "no man's land" to miles in the rear. They prepare the way for the advancing army and destroy the way behind the retreating army.

This is the work which I am going thru now. It is nothing more than cavalry drill at present but interesting and thrilling. We "roll out" at 5:00, stand roll call, feed our horses and ourselves. By 6:30 we are in the saddle on way to drill ground. From this time until 11:30 we are seldom off the horse's back. Our drill includes cavalry formations, hurdling and "monkey drill". The two last make life worth living, for one passes thru a number of enjoyable experiences and some which aren't so pleasant. Hurdling means running our horse at full speed and making him jump it. The largest hurdle we have taken thus far is 3 feet wide and as many high.

Cavalry Drill Good Sport

This is sure good sport and I love it. "Monkey drill" is much like what the name implies, doing anything a monkey can do. In "monkey drill" you remove everything but blanket and bridle. It includes lying on one's back, head on horse's hips in both a walk and trot, standing on feet in walk and trot, standing on feet in walk and trot, touching or trying to touch ground with hand in walk, trot and gallop, dismounting and mounting in walk and trot allowing the feet to strike the ground but once and bounding back again, doing the scissors in walk and trot (turning around on horse and facing opposite direction) turning "flips" over your horse by running at him, his side toward you, mounting from the rear by running up from behind your horse placing hands on his hips and landing on his back, leap frog fashion.

This was what we were doing at the end of our second day of mounted drill. You can imagine what we will be doing within a week or more. Falls are hard and numerous but the drill is such fun that one doesn't mind them.

Of our section of 36 men we have only one fellow in hospital and that from a kick and not a fall. We drill afternoons too, from 1:00 until 3:00 which is a repetition of the morning. We groom for an hour at 3:30 and then feed and are done if some sergeant hasn't a shuck to build or some trash to clean up. Believe me, one is tired at the end of a day's work and ready for "chow." You know "chow" and pay day are the only things that occupy the average soldier's mind and the latter does not bother him long for he soon spends his wages.

Last Monday we were reviewed by Gen. Bell and the Russian Gen. Roop. Some 10,000 troops passed before the reviewing stand including infantry, cavalry, artillery, truck trains, medical corps, signal corps and engineer corps. It was a very interesting sight to me because I had never seen a review before. The troops marched past the stand in platoons and sections and when just past the stand broke into double time for some two hundred yards.

Troops Marched as One Man
The bands played lively airs which served to keep the troops in perfect marching order, marching as one man. As each section passed the distinguished generals the leader saluted and the troops cast their eyes toward them, fronting again when just past. I will remember this review as long as I live. It may be interesting for the onlooker but to be in it gives one a thrill which he can't forget.

The mounted section of our company is composed largely of college men which makes one feel at home. All of them are good fellows. There are, or rather were, three Millikin football players in and around El Bliss. One is in this regiment and the other two in the fifth field artillery which left last week for parts unknown. Sutherland and Meyers were the two in the artillery. The fifth had "Bum on France" chalked on their packs, "thinking they were going there. We don't know when we will leave, and when we leave whether we will be able to write to our friends.

Orders to leave may come one day and we leave the next. Every one is tired of this training camp and wants to do some material good for his Uncle and a corresponding amount of damage to "Bill." Well, I must close before this becomes a volume and besides I have a little bunk fatigue to do before morning.

As ever,
Earl P. Soozy,
Co. E, 2nd Engrs., El Paso, Texas.

FROM AN ARIZONA CAMP
Monday, July 30.

Dear Dr. Hayden:

I thank you very much for the papers you have been sending me. They are just as newsworthy as the used to be when I had to work up a new scheme every day to beat the other fellows to it, and I particularly enjoyed the parts you marked.

I am enclosing a picture of the troop taken just before the rainy season started which is about as good a souvenir of this camp as I will be able to carry away with me. The background is typically Arizona, so far as I know the state.

I'll bet that you can't find me in this picture. I'm there, alright, directly in front of that telephone pole on the left, the eleventh figure from the left end.

The troop is out for full pack inspection, and you can make out most of the pack. There are two main packs, one on the pommel and the other on the back of the saddle. The front pack consists of the pommel bags, nose bag, and slicker. The pommel bags contain the mess kit and cup, canteen and grooming kit. On top of this is the nose bag which is rolled into a compact pack containing enough oats for two feeds.

On top of both is the slicker which is always kept over the saddle when not in use. On the bottom of the rear pack are the ration bags which carry the "eats." Next is the shelter-half pack which contains the shelter-half tent ropes and pole, one towel, one tooth brush, cake soap, one suit of underclothing, and two pairs socks, clean of course. These are all rolled up in the shelter-half tent, which is a one-man tent about six feet long and four wide, and makes a roll about a yard long and four inches thick. Finally comes the latrine, and all are strapped firmly together and to the saddle. A saddle fully packed is about all an ordinary man cares to lift onto a horse's back. To complete a full pack, the halter shank is left on the horse, as you can see in the picture, one bed blanket is folded up the size of the horse blanket and placed on it under the saddle, the bandoleer, containing sixty rounds of 30 cal. rifle and 21 rounds .45 cal. pistol ammunition is carried slung over the shoulder and the pistol is in the holster on the field belt.

Each Man Can Depend on Himself
All these are extra excepting that the pistol is carried, "loaded to the gills," on guard duty, and both the pistol and bandoleer are carried on patrol duty. So you see a man is perfectly able to depend wholly upon himself as long as he is able to keep his ration bags and feed bags full.

That is the smallest part of the picture, tho. When the picture was taken the camera swung on a pivot and took in nearly 180 degrees of the surroundings. When you look at the left end of the picture you look directly south and that big water tank at the right hand end is almost directly north if you will look over my head and count five tents to the right you'll see where I sleep, and the fellow who has his hat stuck into it sleeps about two feet away—usually.

The long, low shed is the stables and just below are the corrals. The big hill in the immediate background is of solid, naked limestone which is being quarried and used in the copper smelters of Douglas, ten miles east. That sharp peak in the distance over the stables is the Noco peak eleven miles away. Farther over to the right the low-lying hill not far away is the one we use to stop those 30 cal. bullets behind the target range.

That long range of mountains in the distance is fully ten miles away. This camp was once fired on from that bunch of hills on the extreme left three miles away.

"That's about all there is there unless you would like to know something about those three. The man in the foreground was then our troop commander but we have managed to get rid of him since and the little "shaver" in the extreme left foreground has succeeded him.

The big fellow behind the troop commander is very probably known, at least by reputation, to Tom, for he is very widely known on the border. He is Sargent Davenport, a big Scotch veteran who has been all over the nation and then some. Water call is imminent and I must close. Don't forget me.

Very truly yours,
Raymond Brown.

AT MARINE BARRACKS

Co. S, 9th Marine Barracks, Paris Island, South Carolina, July 31, 1917.

Dear Dr. Hayden:
We have just completed the task of scrubbing our bunk house, and the afternoon is ours.

My company drilled most of the forenoon. During that time we took part in our first regimental parade. It is much more pleasant to march when Old Glory is flying and the band is playing that it is when only the one, two, three, four of the drill instructors can be heard. However, we are aware that parades will not defeat the enemy. The rifle, bayonet and company movements, rightly executed, will do more.

We are now in the new barracks. These consist of comfortable bunk houses, mess-halls, shower rooms, etc. Every thing here is new. The one fault is unpleasant tasting water. There are about sixty companies in this place. Some will be leaving soon. My company will be here probably four weeks more. So many I. C. boys are here that it is like home in some respects. Frisbie, the Wilsons, Pierce, Decker, Merle Blacketer, and a former Whipple student, Harney, are here. Butcher, Berryman, Lukeman and I think Edwin Smith are at the maneuver grounds. Frisbie has been made acting corporal.

This is a strenuous life. Of course we expected to find it so. We do a great deal of manual labor in addition to our drill work. There are countless foot ball stars here and I venture the assertion that they were never hardened more than now. Even I can do a mile double time with little difficulty.

We fellows certainly appreciate the letters and papers from Jacksonville. I read Coach Harmon's letter with much interest. We expect

I shall give the company numbers again that all may be properly filed. Clay Apple 89, Berryman 96, Blacketer 45, Butcher 94, Harney 44, Decker 77, Frisbie 51, H. Wilson 82, R. Wilson, 91, Pierce 90, Lukeman 96. I do not know Smith's number. He is the only one I have not seen.

With warm regards I am,
Sincerely,

PRESIDENT WILL HAVE BROAD AUTHORITY

Bill Before Congress will Give President Full Control of Fuel Situation Congressman Rainey Declares

The agitation for lower coal prices continues and with constantly better prospect of some success. Saturday W. N. Hairgrove sent a telegram to Congressman Rainey in which he expressed the fear that coal men might be able to take advantage of a section of the proposed law which is really intended for the protection of farmers. He also mentioned a paragraph thru which he thought it might be possible for coal men to take their affairs into court and thus effect delays. Monday Mr. Hairgrove received Congressman Rainey's answer to the telegram, which is given below. The letter makes it plain that the broadest kind of powers have been delegated to the president in this bill, which it is confidently expected will soon become a law.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4, 1917.
Hon. W. N. Hairgrove,
Jacksonville, Ill.

My dear Mr. Hairgrove:

I am just in receipt of your telegram. The conference on the part of the House and the Senate reached a unanimous report and the report was approved yesterday in the House and will be approved today or Monday in the Senate. Every vote cast in the House was in favor of the bill. Three hundred fifty-nine votes were cast for it and two voted "present". The conference report will also be adopted by an overwhelming majority in the Senate.

The law as passed gives the President power to "fix the price of coal and coke wherever and whenever sold either by a producer or dealer."

It also gives to the President the right whenever a producer or dealer fails to comply with the act to "requisition and take over the plant, business, and all appurtenances thereof belonging to such producer, etc., and cause the same to be operated in such manner and through such agency as he may direct, etc."

If the President shall be of the opinion that it is necessary to do so, he is "Authorized and empowered to require any and all producers of coal and coke, either in any special area or any special coal fields, or in the entire United States, to sell their products only to the United States through an agency to be designated by the President, such agency to regulate the re-sale of such coal and coke and the prices thereof, etc."

I note your suggestion that broad powers should be granted to the President. If any broader powers can be granted than I have indicated, I cannot imagine what they will be. The bill meets with the entire approval of the President and his advisors, and is thought by the attorney general to go as far as it is possible to go. I presume the matter may be fought out in the courts, although there are provisions in the bill which as I interpret them would probably make it impossible to delay the operation of this act even by recourse to the courts.

Very truly yours,
Henry T. Rainey.

MORE LETTERS ABOUT FUEL SITUATION

Mayor Rodgers Has Correspondence With Gov. Lowden—Every Effort Will Be Made for Reduction.

Officials and private citizens both are hammering away on the coal situation and reports from Washington, Chicago and Springfield give some indication of success. A week ago Mayor Rodgers addressed the following letter on the subject to Governor Lowden and he has just received a reply, in which the governor promises to use his utmost endeavor to secure the desired reductions.

Governor Frank O. Lowden,
Springfield, Ill.

Dear Governor:

The conditions arising from our present war necessities and anticipations, is the means of different corporations and people using the opportunity to filch the people out of unusual and unwarranted profit for the necessities of life. Exorbitant prices does not make a bushel of wheat or corn sustain any more people, nor a bushel of coal produce any more energy. Nor does the exorbitant price make any less coal in the ground. I think our government made a mistake in fixing the minimum price for wheat instead of a maximum price of $2.00 and the contemplated fixing of a minimum price for coal should be reversed to a maximum price at the mine, not to exceed $2.00. The revenues of municipalities and individuals, especially those on salaries cannot adjust themselves on their present incomes to such minimum prices, which does not restrict speculation and the Shylock from demanding his pound of flesh.

The State Council of Defense are at the present holding sessions and considering the coal question. The men you appointed are very capable gentlemen in every way, but there is no doubt of the fact that the proceedings of their meetings should be public, as the people are vitally interested in all these questions, and the general expression of the public is that they should know, or be given information of what is going on. I would suggest that as far as your influence would go, that you advise the State Council of Defense to let the public know what is being done for their interest. I also think it advisable as a war measure, that the State of Illinois take over the coal mines and operate them to the interest of the general public, with a fair profit for the owner. While we fathers are giving and sending our sons to do the fighting and protect our form of government and right of living, no one should be allowed to take advantage of that opportunity to unreasonably enrich themselves at the entire expense of the helpless individual.

Thanking you for your consideration, I am

Yours respectfully,
Henry J. Rodgers,
Mayor

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 4, 1917.

My dear Mr. Mayor:
I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 27. This grave question is occupying almost my entire attention. I am working out all the powers I possess under the law, and I propose to utilize them to the utmost to secure a reduction in the price of coal.

Very sincerely yours,
Frank O. Lowden.

PLUMBING EXAMINERS WILL BE NAMED

Ordinance Providing for Licensing Presented Before City Council—Three Mill Tax Will Be Ordered to Pay Public Benefit in Street Paving—Officers Reports Approved

Two ordinances of more than ordinary import were given a first reading at the regular session of the city council Monday morning. One was an ordinance providing for the licensing of master and journeyman plumbers and providing for the appointment of a board of examiners. The other was an ordinance for the levying of a three mill tax on all property in the city for the purpose of paying public benefits on street paving improvements.

In addition to these ordinances a number of sidewalk ordinances were given a first reading, officers reports were received and placed on file and other matters discussed. The council did not adjourn until after the noon hour and a great deal of business was transacted.

When the council convened all members were present except Commissioner Vasconcellos who came in later and took his place in the council. The clerk read the minutes of the regular and adjourned sessions which were approved as read.

The clerk read a report of the inspection of boilers at the light plant and south end pumping station. The boilers were reported in good condition.

Wants Wider Pavement
J. Tabor Mathers appeared before the council and asked if some steps could be taken toward widening the pavement in East State street. Mr. Mathers said that since the laying of the new concrete walks in that street a small boulevard had been left. That it was not wide enough to be of any use and would be of great benefit to the street if put in the paving. Mr. Mathers said that he owned one of the largest frontages on the street and that a great many years ago the property owners had set back their fences and made the walk wider.

Mayor Rodgers said that it would be impossible to do anything now as the contract had been let. He suggested, however, that the property owners might get together and arrange for the paving. He agreed with Mr. Mathers that the boulevard would be of much benefit if added to the width of the paving. Commissioner Vasconcellos came in at this point and took his place in the council.

Mayor Rodgers said that the Chautauqua association wanted to sprinkle Hardin avenue from Michigan avenue to the Vandalla road during the chautauqua. It was desired that the city furnish the water and the association would do the work. The matter was referred to Commissioner Vasconcellos with power to act.

All claims against the city were ordered paid when funds are available.

Water Survey Representative Here
Commissioner Vasconcellos reported that M. L. Enger of the state water survey was in the city to make the tests at the north end pumping station. He also reported that the repairing of the dam at the south end pumping station was nearly completed. The question of moving a fire hydrant in East North street on account of the laying of a new walk was also brought up by Mr. Vasconcellos. Engineer Henderson said that in giving the line for the new walks he had run it straight thru to eliminate a jog in the walk in front of two properties. It was decided that the hydrant would be set back of the walk in the boulevard. Commissioner Vasconcellos said that property owners of Lincoln avenue south of Morton avenue wanted lights but that with the present high price of wire he did not see how it could be done. Commissioner Cox reported that he was flushing streets and had removed a large tree in South Hardin avenue. The commissioner also referred to the bad condition of East College avenue and said that the Railway and Light company should do something to give relief. Mayor Rodgers suggested that West College avenue be flushed from South Main street to Fayette street. Mr. Cox was of the opinion that it would not be advisable where the pavement had a sand filler.

The matter of a protest from Mrs. Anna Lohman about E. N. Kitter setting his sidewalk against the curb was also discussed. Commissioner Cox said that the council had refused to let Mrs. Lohman set her walk out to the curb. It was the sense of the council that if she wants to put in the additional foot of walk to conform with Mr. Kitter's walk that she be given permission.

Commissioner Martin reported that he had received two motor fire trucks which would be given a test this week. He also reported that he had lost one of his best firemen, Henry Ortlip who had joined the navy. The commissioner said he would not put anyone on for the present.

Commissioner Widmayer reported that warrants were being drawn for current bills and would be ready the last of the week.

Engineer Henderson reported that John Bretz who has part of the loop paving contract and the contract for North Church street was expected in the city to confer with him about the work. He also reported that Walter Lonergan had nearly completed the South Clay avenue pavement.

Mayor Rodgers reported that William Hackman had told him that he would not lay a walk in front of his property in Arnett street. The mayor recommended that an ordinance be drawn covering the work.

Plumbers Ordinance

An ordinance for the licensing of master and journeyman plumbers was given a first reading. The ordinance is to comply with a new state law recently enacted which makes it obligatory on cities to provide for such a license. The fee for master plumbers is fixed at $50 with a renewal fee of $10 per annum. The fee for journeyman plumbers is $1, with a renewal of $1 per annum. The ordinance provides that the Commissioner of Public Health and Safety is to be a member of the examining board and its chairman. The other two members are to be a master and a journeyman plumber to be appointed by the mayor with the advice and consent of the city council. The penalty for violation shall be not less than $5 nor more than $200 for each and every offense.

An ordinance providing for the levying of a three mill tax on all city property for public benefits in street paving improvements was given a first reading. The ordinance will raise revenue to the amount of about $15,000. The improvements specified are as follows: Duncan park paving $3,054.35. Old engine house building West Morgan street, $122.55. Post office building $797.55. Library and city hall $125. West College street pavement, city's part, $3,422.53.

Prepare or More Sidewalks

First readings were given for sidewalks on the following streets: Richards street both sides from South Main to South West street. Anna street both sides from South Main to South Diamond street. Bedford street both sides from West Lafayette avenue to the Wabash railroad. East Morgan street south side from public square to South Clay avenue. North side from public square to South East street. West Morgan street both sides from public square to South Prairie street. Illinois avenue west side from East State street to East Lafayette avenue.

Mayor Rodgers said that the city was now in a position to build a bridge over the brook in South Mauvaisterre street and thought that the work of laying a pavement in that street should proceed. The engineer was instructed to prepare plans and see what the bridge would cost. It was suggested that this should be done at once so that the city could take advantage of the hauling of dirt from some of the paving jobs to make a fill at the brook.

The council decided to attend the meeting of the Burlington Way in Springfield next Monday.

There being no further business the council on motion adjourned.

WOMEN WHO FADE EARLY

How often we hear the expression,
"How she has faded!" or "Hasn't she grown old!" Her friends see it.
Her husband sees it. She realizes it herself with a pang. Often she knows the reason, some female derangement has fastened itself upon her and makes it almost impossible for her to drag around from day to day. Such women should remember there is one tried and true remedy
for their condition, and that Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for more than forty years has been restoring women to health and happiness. Try it!—Adv.

Women Everywhere
Use Lemon Juice
To Beautify Skin

The beauty lotion which is becoming so popular throughout the country is easily prepared by anyone, and costs any more than a small jar of the common, ordinary cold creams.

Add the juice of two fresh lemons
to three ounces of orchard white and shake well in a bottle. Strain the lemon juice two or three times thru
a fine cloth so no pulp gets into the lotion, then it will keep fresh for months. Regardless of what price
you pay or how highly advertised,
there is nothing else really more meritorious in beautifying, softening and clearing the skin. As a tan and blemish remover, also to remove oiliness and sallowness, lemon juice has no rival. Massage it into the face, neck, and arms once or twice each day, and just see if it doesn't bring out the roses and hidden beauty!

Lemons have always been used to bleach the skin, but pure lemon juice
is too highly acid, therefore should never be used except in this manner.
If properly prepared, this sweetly
fragrant lotion will speak for itself.
Any drug store will supply the three ounces of orchard white at very little cost, and the grocer will supply the lemons.—Adv.

Don't Overheat
Your Battery

In summer, when you're not using your lights a great deal and when the motor starts easily and quickly—becare-ful that you do not overfeed your battery.

Overfeeding means overheating, and
continued overheating means the ruin
of the battery.

When you're touring, or running your machine a great deal, take the battery's

temperature occasionally, and if it is getting up to 100° and over—burn all the lights until it has cooled down.

Or if you haven't a thermometer, let us take your battery's temperature.

Next time you're near, come in—
our battery experts will be glad to explain overheating thoroughly. Ask for the Willard Booklet—"Are You Overheating Your Battery."

RELIEF ORGANIZATION RED CROSS AUXILIARY

Arrangement Perfected Whereby National Surgical Dressings Committee Becomes Affiliated with Great Relief Organization — Will Carry
On Present Work in U. S.

Washington, D. C., August 6.—
Ever since the Red Cross War
Council was appointed by President Wilson earnest efforts have been made to secure effective co-operation with the Red Cross by the allied war relief organizations. The first important fruit of these efforts
is the establishment of a working plan of co-operation with the National Surgical Dressings Committee.
Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, today authorizes the following statement:
"The Red Cross is very much gratified to be able to announce that
the National Surgical Dressings
Committee, one of the most important organizations called into being by the European War, has become an auxiliary of the American Red Cross. This arrangement was perfected after protracted negotiation
between Mrs. Mary Hatch Willard, the organizer and chairman of the Surgical Dressings Committee, and Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Red Cross Committee on Co-operation."

"It is believed that this is the precursor of arrangements to be made whereby other war relief organizations may become allies of the Red Cross and join with it in carrying a practical message of aid
and relief among those of our own people and our allies who may be sick wounded and suffering because of this war."

Has Done Marvelous Work
"The National Surgical Dressings
Committee has done a marvelous work. It has made and forwarded over 16,000,000 surgical dressings for use in over 1,500 hospitals on the continent of Europe. Its aim has been to prepare dressings with special reference to the particular needs in different localities, and its work has been handled with great efficiency and with splendid spirit.
The committee has about 25,000
working members in different parts of the United States."

"The arrangement with the Red Cross provides that the Surgical Dressings Committee shall retain its name and organization, and carry on its present work in the United States
as a national auxiliary of the Red Cross. It may solicit funds in its own name, but no solicitation shall be made in the name of the Red Cross unless all the proceeds therefrom are turned over to the Red Cross organization. The committee will give full reports concerning its activities and finances to the Red Cross."

"The Red Cross will seek to perfect the standards of materials sent abroad and will disseminate among all Chapters and organizations doing relief work information as to the nature and quantity of materials
and supplies most needed at the front. The Surgical Dressings Committee, in its work for American hospitals in Europe, will conform to such standards."

"The French section of this committee will become the Surgical Dressings Service Department of the American National Red Cross. It will administer in France all the surgical dressings work of the Red Cross, and will be in charge of Mrs.
C. K. Austin, heretofore director in Paris of the French section of the Surgical Dressings Committee."

Will Avoid Duplication
"The Red Cross seeks to encourage the efforts of all relief organizations. It is hoped that all such organizations, which are manufacturing materials for hospital or other relief work among our allies in Europe, may become auxiliaries of the Red Cross, thus avoiding duplication. Such auxiliaries will retain their name and identity, the Red Cross will assist them in making their work effective, and with such affiliation the Red Cross will transport their materials to Europe free of charge, and see to it that such materials are properly distributed
have solicited contributions in kind.
Some of the articles solicited have been necessary; others, while given in a spirit of fine generosity, have not necessarily been of great benefit. Yet other articles have been sent to Europe which were not needed at all."

"Pressure upon shipping space
has become very intense, and it is absolutely necessary that for the present nothing be shipped abroad
which is not imperatively needed.
Ocean shipping difficulties become greater each day as the submarine warfare is continued. The Red Cross cannot provide shipping arrangements for articles other than those its investigations in Europe show to be required there."

"It is the hope that organizations
which have devoted themselves
merely to collecting funds will, after having used their present funds
according to the designation of the donors, divert their efforts to soliciting funds which may be utilized along lines for which experience has acquired abroad shows a paramount
need to exist."

"The Red Cross has assumed administration of the War Relief Clearing House in France, and will continue its functions. By reason of the great pressure of the French

railways, it will be impossible for the War Relief Clearing House to arrange free transportation after September 1 for articles other than those which may be designed as essential in the present emergency."

"In the meantime the American Red Cross has been co-operating successfully with the War Relief Clearing House in the United States
is assisting the various relief organizations to obtain the utmost possible space for shipping to Europe
from American ports. Everything offered this far has been shipped abroad."

Situation Undergoes Change
"It should be understood, however, that the situation as to relief organizations which prevails now as compared with that before the declaration of war by the United States, is wholly different. Prior to that time the American Red Cross
had to be neutral, whereas the various relief organizations were under no such obligation. With our entry into the war, the Red Cross became free to exert itself in any way which,
within the scope of its general activities, might aid our allies and allied peoples."

"We earnestly hope that no one will feel that the Red Cross desires to do anything but help. The Red Cross is an American institution,
chartered by the United States Government, and the President of the United States is its President. The organization belongs to the American people, and seeks in this great world emergency to do nothing more
and nothing less than to co-ordinate
the generosity and the effort of our people toward achieving a supreme aim."

By reason of his appointment by President Wilson to membership on the War Industries Board, Judge Robert S. Lovett has resigned as chairman of the Committee on Cooperation of the Red Cross. This committee has had in hand the plans for co-ordinating the work of the various war relief organizations with the Red Cross."

Henry P. Davison, chairman of the War Council, has appointed to succeed Judge Lovett on this committee C. A. Coffin, chairman of the Board of Directors of the General Electric Company, and also member of the War Relief Clearing House.
Mr. Davison has also added to the committee, Mr. H. E. Andrews,
President of the New York State Railways Company, and also chairman of the Finance Committee of the War Relief Clearing House."

At a meeting of the full committee Mr. Coffin was chosen chairman to succeed Judge Lovett."

REPORTS FROM THE GRAIN FIELDS

Good Yields of Wheat and Oats Reported From Many Localities.

A number of Morgan county farmers report excellent yields of wheat
and oats and while those mentioned are exceptional still the general
yield of the county has been good
and many wheat fields were plowed
up when it would have paid to let them alone."

Frank Wingler of the east part of the county had 15 acres of hard wheat threshed by A. Ornellas which yielded 33 bushels of a fine sample
to the acre."

C. W. Davis working for Ornellas helped thresh Edgar Cully's hard wheat which turned out 37 bushels to the acre. There was also a short acre of rye that turned out fifty bushels. In fact, Mr. Davis said it was hardly more than three quarters
of an acre."

Carl West, with a Rumley separa-
tor threshed for Frank Waltman,
fifty acres of hard wheat which
made a gross yield of 2177 bushels or a trifle more than 43 bushels to the acre. It was a good sample."

R. A. Harris threshed for J. R.
Baker of Pisgah precinct 25 acres
of hard wheat that turned out a little more than 38 bushels to the acre of good grain. Mr. Harris also threshed for Mr. Harris twenty acres of Texas oats that made 75 bushels
to the acre."

Fred Ranson had a field of oats,
forty acres the Journal informant thought, on the Cleary farm, that yielded 94 bushels to the acre.
The most remarkable field of wheat that has come under the observation of the writer was that of
O. E. Buffe, just west of Nichols park. Last March the field didn't look as if it would yield five bushels
to the acre but it turned out 25
and while not of a very good quality
it sold for two dollars a bushel and as Mr. Buffe received half he feels he has pretty good reason for his land.
Messrs. A. Curry and son of Pisgah precinct had 120 acres of oats that yielded seventy bushels to the acre. R. A. Harris did the threshing and the grain was of a good quality. They sold 5000 bushels at the Pisgah elevator for 56 cents
a bushel. The oats were the Texas
Red variety and produced a fine
sample of grain."

On the A. C. Rice farm east of Jacksonville one field of wheat
threshed out 35 bushels to the acre and another 33 bushels. Early in the season Mr. Rice walked over both of these fields and was fully persuaded that more than half of the plants had been winter killed. However he determined not to plow up the fields
and naturally he is gratified by the results."

SOLDIER'S EXPERIENCE IN HAITI HELPFUL

Washington, August 6.—Veteran
campaigners of the United States Marine Corps, who saw service in Haiti and who are now with the expeditionary force in France, went to the latter place with a good working knowledge of the French language."

The national language of Haiti
is French and for "sea soldiers"
were quick to get a smattering of
it. Haitian French and the French of the Parisian are not unlike and the U. S. Marines who saw service in the little island republic in the Caribbean during the revolution
have found their knowledge of French extremely useful in their present surroundings."

A VIGOROUS DISCOURSE

The sermon by Rev. J. E. Artz at Grace church Sunday was a fine effort. The gentleman expressed his loyalty in no uncertain manner. He said he regretted the war and the necessity of sending our brave men
to the front but the duty was upon us and we could discharge it in no other way. Freedom and democracy, righteousness and upright government were assailed by a ruthless power which must be crushed if the right is to prevail. In the first place
it was the duty of the United States
to uphold the right and stand by the nations in danger of being ruthlessly
overwhelmed and in the next place
it was strictly a matter of self preservation, for once let Germany win
and the vassalage of this country or
a fearful conflict would be the result.

The reverend gentleman was cordially greeted by many Jacksonville
friends who were much pleased to hear and see him. He is having a successful pastorate in Ashland and stands well with the people there.

Earl Phillips of Waverly was added
to the list of city callers yesterday.

MAN 85 YEARS OLD IS WORKING DAILY

Seymour Feels Fine Every Way, Since Taking
Tanlac

"Nearly every day I advise someone to try Tanlac for I'm convinced
the new medicine will help everyone who is troubled," J. Seymour, a prominent local retired farmer of 319
South East street, told the Tanlac
Man on July 14.

"When a medicine helps a man of my age—85 years—it certainly proves that it is a preparation of merit," he continued. "I guess the run down, weakened condition of my general system was due to my age."

"I had been reading in the Jacksonville papers of Tanlac's good work and finally decided to try it.
Well sir, Tanlac seemed to tone up my system generally as I feel fine in most every way now. Notwithstanding my age, I do my work every day
now, sleep and eat with the greatest of satisfaction and feel good all the time. I'm buying a bottle of Tanlac for my daughter, today, and I'm going to have her begin the use of the medicine."

Tanlac is now being introduced in Jacksonville at the Coover-Shreve
Drug Co. East Side store. Tanlac
also may be obtained at the West Side Store of the Coover-Shreve Co. It is sold in Waverly at the Wyle Drug Co.; in New Berlin at
